Dr. Loewenstein moderated the meeting.

South Corona Education Center
A key recommendation from the recently approved long-range facilities and academic master plan is the development of a Norco College education center in the area of south Corona. A space has been identified at the Toscana Marketplace, a mixed used development right off the I-15 freeway. The center would serve students enrolled in daytime classes who wish to minimize trips to the Norco Campus as well as the evening commuter student.

Dr. Loewenstein asked for a motion to approve the concept to move forward with the project and present it to the District. Karin Skiba motioned for approval. Sharon Crasnow seconded. The motion was approved by the committee with none opposed.

Planning Agendas
The strategic planning subcommittees need to continue to meet and review the planning agenda items in the self study. The SPC co-chairs council will be meeting on December 11 and giving updates on the planning agendas.
Staffing and Equipment Lists
The priority lists were approved at a special meeting on November 6. The President is making some of her contingency funds available to finance the purchase of some of the top ranked equipment requests.

Strategic Planning Committees
Dr. Loewenstein proposes consolidating the nine committees into a more workable number, pending the outcome of the accreditation process. He also encouraged the committees to continue to meet and move forward in their endeavors.
